Subject: Sheri Buretta Meeting

Governor,

Yesterday Tom and I had an extraordinary meeting with the ANSCA Regional Corps/CEO Group, the President of which, as you know, is Sheri Buretta. The meeting went very well and we answered some tough questions. These folks are smart – and invested in this. I received calls from CEOs this morning, thanking us and seeking more information. It was very encouraging.

An AGIA endorsement from them would be vitally important, because:

(1) this group collectively controls $5 billion in revenue and $3.5 billion in assets, employing over 3,000 Alaska Natives,
(2) they represent the collective voice of nearly every Alaskan Native,
(3) an ANCSA corporation endorsement would rock the producers from their aggressive anti-AGIA stance after hearing that the companies and subsidiaries that do the lion's share of the oilfield servicing on the slope backed AGIA, and
(4) an expression of support for AGIA from one of these individuals to his or her legislators would carry huge sway.

The group promised further discussion. Particularly encouraging was Mark Kroloff echoing our insistence upon the importance of AGIA's expansion provisions, reminding the others that through the 7(i) sharing program, their collective wealth rose and fell with the success of getting gas reserves beneath ASRC/Doyon/CIRI/NANA turf into the pipe.

I've had long chats with both Sheri and Mary Ann Pease, both of whom had previously planned to be in Juneau all day Thursday. Sheri says they would be willing to change their plans and come tomorrow (on the 11:40 flight), in order to try to catch you before you left tomorrow evening. Do you think you'd have time to squeeze them in?

Tom was very effective. The CEOs plan to meet again to consider a resolution. A draft is to be circulated by Friday. I think there is a good chance of some support, thought there are a few in the group with strong producer ties who will need to think carefully. The group is aware of the timing and I think we'll get them there.

mental and physical ability to deal with the trust will get Medicaid. But it's not fair to the vulnerable

Governor,

How well do you know Harry McDonald, president of Carlile Enterprises or Liane Pelletier of ACS? I was wondering if you would be interested in calling these two individuals and just touch base with them and answer questions to diffuse anything they might be hearing from producers. I ran into Harry at your Inaugural Ball in Anchorage. I know him personally and think he would be a good one with whom to speak. Liane Pelletier at ACS would absolutely welcome a call from you. I would guess that she would ask questions and her focus would be on corporate shareholders and the State "interfering" with private sector companies and their shareholders. But as a woman and as a President, Liane would want to hear from you – and I think your time would go far. I've picked these two for you in particular because they were both at a press conference that I organized last fall in opposition to proposition 2 and would most likely participate in another.

Thanks,
Meg

Subject: Employee Recognition Awards

I understand that there is perhaps a bit of confusion regarding the employee awards. To be clear and so that everyone is on the same page - the request was to have the Governor in Anchorage "for just an hour" the week of May 1st or May 7th. Since there are no plans to have the Governor in Anchorage, I made the determination that since those dates are critical to our AGIA efforts and ensuring the Governor's availability to legislators, etc., it would be difficult to arrange for a trip to Anchorage for an awards ceremony.

I was told perhaps it could move to the week of the 14th, but that is the final week of session and will be equally as challenging since the Governor is expected to remain in Juneau during that crucial week. At that point, I was told that if the Governor couldn't be in Anchorage, perhaps the ceremony could happen in Juneau and the Governor could honor the 15 from Juneau (of the roughly 100 recipients). My understanding is that I am still waiting to hear if that is truly an option.

Thanks,

Meg

Governor,

I wanted to ensure you were aware of the information contained in the following e-mail. One change to the message below; the companies did /not/ file for compulsory unitization at the AOGCC yesterday, the 16th, but we are told they will file today. Furthermore, Exxon is making a point of talking with the press, both in state and nationally, and we are fielding many questions. Because there are many different legal issues at play, we are centralizing our messaging to Nan Thomson, the Unit Manager within the Division of Oil & Gas. Finally, there is a hearing on the Pt Thomson /unit/ default today, so I'm sure there will be press coverage of that hearing. Superior Court Judge Gleason, who is hearing the companies appeal on our decision to terminate the unit, could make a ruling from the bench, or could wait up to 30 days to make a decision. We do not expect her to make a ruling from the bench.

We anticipate that the companies that formerly owned leases in the Point

Thomson area will file a petition for compulsory unitization at the AOGCC on Monday April 16. Under the agency's rules, a hearing will be held within 30 days.

DNR will formally file comments in the AOGCC proceeding explaining that the unit was terminated December 27, 2006 and that decision is under review by the Superior Court after the former owners appealed.

As the result of the unit termination, the underlying leases also were terminated by force of law. The leases in the "expansion area" terminated effective December 27, 2006 under the terms of the Expansion Agreement. The remaining leases were all beyond their primary terms, held only by the unit and expired 90 days after the unit terminated on March 27, 2007. Under an agreement in the unit appeal litigation, the effective date of the lease terminations was extended until the judge in that case rules on a Motion to Stay the proceedings. The judge is hearing arguments on the Motion on Tuesday, April 17, and may rule from the bench or may issue a written decision in the following weeks.

The companies that held interests in the leases have appealed the lease termination notices issued by the Director of the Division of Oil and Gas to the Commissioner of Natural Resources. They received a 30 day extension of their obligation to file their appeal briefs and record, with their filing now due at the end of April. The Commissioner will consider the appeals and issue written decisions.

Subject: Bering Sea Fisheries and Anadromous Fish Boards

Alan stopped in today to sign the resignation letters. We can now move forward with sending nominations back east.

North Pacific Anadromous Fish Commission: Submit one nomination. We were considering Privileged or Because this appointment comes directly from the president it could take some time to get the new person appointed. Alan said it took two years before he was officially appointed. An acting board member selected from the Commission served until he was appointed.

Bering Sea Fisheries U.S. Advisory Board: Submit two nominations. We were considering Privileged or Personal N and Privileged or Pe One has to be a preferred choice. Travel and lodging expenses for this board can't be paid through the Office of the Governor. Earl Kreiger in ADF&G manages a federal grant that is used for travel to board meetings.

Subject: RE: Employee Recognition Awards

Well, now I think it's sorted out. We were asking for the Governor to be in ANC, but apparently would have been happy to have her in JNU. So here's the request:

Is the Governor available on May 9th, which is State Employee Recognition Day for about 30 minutes to make remarks to all of the employees who have been nominated for Denali Peak Awards (about 85 total Statewide) and to present the 15 awards to those in Juneau, hopefully in the Governor's Conference Room so that we can "participate" from an Anchorage video location. About 70 employees will be at the Anchorage location (which is still being determined). We will schedule the event for the time she has available on that day. We would like to keep the videoconferencing going until the folks in ANC have received their awards, rather than ending at 30 mins. when the Governor will likely need to move on to other business.

(The May 9th date is based on the "National Association of State Personnel Executives (NASPE) characterized as "State Employee Recognition Day. The web site is http://www.naspe.net/index.cfm?PageID=20
It was initiated in 2001 by NASPE and the National Governors Association (NGA).

Thanks and sorry for our part in any misunderstandings.

Subject: Employee Recognition Awards

I understand that there is perhaps a bit of confusion regarding the employee awards. To be clear and so that everyone is on the same page - the request was to have the Governor in Anchorage "for just an hour" the week of May 1st or May 7th. Since there are no plans to have the Governor in

Anchorage, I made the determination that since those dates are critical to our AGIA
efforts and ensuring the Governor's availability to legislators, etc., it would be difficult to arrange for a trip to Anchorage for an awards ceremony.

I was told perhaps it could move to the week of the 14th, but that is
final week of session and will be equally as challenging since the Governor
is expected to remain in Juneau during that crucial week. At that point, I was told that if the Governor couldn't be in Anchorage, perhaps the ceremony
could happen in Juneau and the Governor could honor the 15 from Juneau (of the roughly 100 recipients). My understanding is that I am still waiting to hear if that is truly an option.

Thanks,
Meg

Gov Murkowski appt Alan Austerman to serve on 2 federal boards and we had to have him resign before we can send nominations forward. These are the two boards we were thinking of for Privileged and Privileged o back when we were discussing the Board of Fish.

Are you ready for some coffee?

Governor Palin,

Were you thinking Todd as honorary chair and Ed as the fill-in for Commissioner Jackson when she can't attend meetings (instead of Dennis)?

We're almost there…

Thanks for your help!
